

SAY SINCLAIR HELPED OUT ON G. O. P. DEFICIT

Oil Committee Probes Story of Transferred Securities

WITNESS ABSENT

Cant Locate Sinclair's Secretary, Called to Testify—Hays and Daugherty Subpoenaed

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The Senate oil committee suffered a temporary setback today when it undertook to inquire into the story that Harry P. Sinclair turned over a large batch of securities to Attorney General Daugherty and Will Hays, former chairman of the Republican National Committee to help wipe out a heavy deficit incurred by the party in the 1920 campaign. Process servers reported they were unable to locate G. D. Walberg, Sinclair's private secretary, who was to have taken stand today as the first witness in the new line investigation. Hays was subpoenaed to appear later and Sinclair probably will be questioned tomorrow.

Walberg previously testified that Sinclair turned over $25,000 in liberty bonds to Mr. Hays. He did not then identify the man named.

Question At Jennings

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—At Jennings, once famous train robber of Oklahoma, will be summoned here for the oil committee. In announcing a subpoena for Jennings, Senator Walsh said he would be questioned with the papers that Jack Johnson, former Republican national convention man from Oklahoma, undertook to put through an oil deal at the Chicago Republican national convention in 1920.

TO GIVE BONUS BILL PRIORITY

Senator Watson Says Senate Will Consider It Before Tax Measure

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Senator Watson, Republican of Indiana, member of the Senate Finance committee predicted today the soldiers' bonus bill would be given priority in the committee over the tax measure. He indicated work would be started on the bonus measure next week.

MRS. R. CLELAND, FORMERLY RUTH RHORER, DIES YESTERDAY

Sad news of the death late yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Robert Cleland, formerly Miss Ruth Rhorer, was telegraphed to relatives here last night. Mrs. Cleland was a granddaughter of Judge and Mrs. M. H. Rhorer and Mrs. Chapman of this city and had often visited here. Her funeral will be held tomorrow in Lebanon and Mrs. Don Price and Mrs. E. P. Nicholson, Mrs. Cleland's aunts, left last night for there.

Mrs. Cleland was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rhorer of Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Middlesboro. She was married a year ago to Mr. Cleland, Lebanon business man. Besides her husband and parents, she is survived by an infant son, Robert Jr., and a brother, Horace, and three sisters, Mrs. Jack Simpson, Miss Mary and Miss Dorothy, all of Atlanta. She was 22 years old.

Mrs. Cleland had often visited in Middlesboro and had many friends here. She was a beautiful and lovable girl and her death is sadly mourned.

FREIGHT WRECK MAKES PASSENGERS VERY LATE

Wreck of freight car, east of a freight train at Danvers, Va., last night entirely blocked the railroad at that place and compelled the passenger trains that way to go around by St. Charles, Va. As a result, No. 24, the hero early last evening, got in at 1:45 this morning and No. 23, going the other way, got out accordingly late this morning.

James H. Smith was in Wallingboro, and Mr. Alfry have purchased a new Ford truck from Mott Motor Co.

The Daugherty "Shack"

This is Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty's "shack" on Deer Creek, 20 miles from Washington, D. C. Here Daugherty often met the late Jessie Smith and other friends on his visits from the capital. Jessie Smith, Smith's divorced wife, told the senatorial committee, now hearing charges against the attorney general.

COOLIDGE WINS IN N. D. PRIMARY

Runs 15,000 Ahead of Opponents, Johnson and La Follette, Polling Evenly

By Associated Press.

FARGO, N. D., Mar. 20.—Coolidge was conceded the victory in the Republican presidential preference primary in North Dakota yesterday in a statement issued here today by State Headquarters Senator Hiram Johnson, one of the President's primary opponents. Coolidge was fifteen thousand ahead of La Follette and Johnson both of whom were running about even when thirteen hundred of the State's two thousand precincts were counted.

OPERATORS, MINERS CAN NOT AGREE

U. M. W. Holds Out for Continuation Present Scale—Operators Want 1917 Plan

Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Mar. 20.—Spokesmen for miners and operators in joint session here indicated today an agreement for the wage scale was remote. Lonnie Jackson, president of the miners, indicated that the miners were standing out for a continuation of last year's scale, while operators are said to be firm for revision to the 1917 scale.

NEW BOOKS IN HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT AT LIBRARY

Intricate work of the federal, state and municipal governmental bodies which are more or less a mystery to the average person are explained in detail in the two-volume set called "The American Commonwealth" by Bryce at the Carnegie Library. Every phase of work relating to civil governments as well as a historical sketch of the American republic are contained in the work which bears a late copyright.

Among the other books recently received at the library are: "Creative Chemistry," Slosson; "Child Life in Colonial Days," Earle; "Daniel Boone and the Wilderness Road," Bruce; and "Daniel Boone, Kentucky Pioneer," Abbott. The last named books on the famous pioneer are of special interest to residents of this section.

BUYS FRAZER AND OVERTON'S

La Follette Man Will Open Ready-to-Wear Shop at Corner Store

C. T. Moreland has purchased the stock of Frazer and Overton and will operate the establishment under the name of the Moreland Cash store. Inventory is being taken today and the new proprietor expects to take charge of the store tomorrow.

As soon as the present stock which consists of men's high grade clothing and furnishings is disposed of, Mr. Moreland will open with a new line of men's, women's and children's to-wear clothing for women, and children and a complete line of furnishings. Some changes in the store will be made to adequately display the new line of goods.

Mr. Moreland has recently closed out his business at LaFollette, Tenn. and will devote his entire time to the business here. He is well known here, having formerly been connected with a local business.

H. H. Overton and Frank Frazer who have been operating the store for some time say that they have made no plans concerning future business connections.

EUGENE MARTIN SHOOT'S HIMSELF

Prominent Pineville Business Man In Serious Condition—Reason Unknown

By Associated Press.

Pineville business man, shot himself through the head at his boarding place this morning and is in a very serious condition at the Wilson hospital. Reasons for the act are not known.

Prof. Jones, roommate of Mr. Martin at Ira J. Porter's house at Pineville stated that Mr. Martin seemed quite as well as common this morning and in his usual good spirits. Prof. Jones left him in his room at about 6:30. A half hour later, Mrs. Porter heard the shot and the fall to the floor. Upon investigation it was found that Mr. Martin had shot himself through the head with a pistol. The bullet had entered at the ear and lodged in his head.

He was immediately taken to the Wilson hospital where it was reported that he was not expected to live many hours. Mr. Martin is one of the most popular young business men in Pineville. He was employed as bookkeeper at the office of the Varrilla coal company there for a few years. Some months ago he bought a controlling interest in the Pineville Furniture company and is president of that establishment. He is about twenty-five years of age. He came from Toledo, O. to Pineville a few years ago. His parents live at Toledo and he has a sister in college at Georgetown.

BAPTISTS PLAN RECEPTION FOR DR. AND MRS. MARTIN

An informal reception will be given by the Rev. and Mrs. Sam P. Martin for the members of the First Baptist church in the Baraca room of the church at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. A program consisting of music, speaking and humorous stunts has been arranged.

The welcome address will be made by the pastor and the responses by Judge J. R. Sampson. There will be a play by the members of the Junior R. Y. P. U. entitled "Wait a Minute."

Among the musical numbers arranged for the occasion are: A duet by Mrs. U. G. Brummett and Miss Norma Newman; quartet, the Jenkins brothers; duet, Will Hoo and Miss Beitha Hoo; quartet, Mrs. Cecil Owsley, Mrs. T. R. Hill, Ed Hoo and T. R. Hill.

Refreshments will be served. The latter part of the program will be devoted to stunts and contests, mainly of a humorous nature.

The affair will be an informal get-together meeting for the members of the church. It is an annual event at the Baptist church. The committee making the arrangements for the entertainment consists of: T. R. Hill, chairman, Jack Caldwell and Wayland Smith.

DINNER FRIDAY NIGHT FOR MEN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The men of the First Presbyterian Church will have a dinner at the church dining hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night, preparatory for the every member canvass for the year's fund to be made among church members Sunday afternoon.

KIWANIS PLANS MONUMENT FOR DR. THOS. WALKER

Judge Ayres' Eloquent Speaker On Subject Today

PUT AT PINEVILLE NEED $25,000 NOW

Major Helburn Tells of New Roads Planned to Be Completed By This Fall

An appeal to Middlesboro Kiwanis to help Pineville Kiwanis erect a suitable monument to Dr. Thomas Walker, the first immigrant to Kentucky to leave written record of his travels, was eloquently made at the Kiwanis luncheon hour today by Judge William B. Ayres, who also gave an unusually interesting sketch of Dr. Walker.

Judge Ayres brought out the fact of Walker's relationship with Thomas Jefferson, saying that Dr. Walker was a close friend of the great Democrat's father, was executor of his will and was guardian and early instructor of the young Thomas.

In 1750, 174 years ago, Dr. Walker, with a party of six, the first group of Anglo-Saxons who ever left on journeys into the west, went through this section, over Cumberland Gap, into the new country. There had been adventurous excursions this way before, the speaker said, but never a group with a particular purpose. At this time, he showed, the French were taking the whole middle west, making incursions into what the English claimed to own just west of the Alleghenies. Dr. Walker and his party were sent out to explore this country and plan ways to frustrate the ambitious French. Their efforts laid the foundation for the settlement of Kentucky, Judge Ayres said. Most interesting of all is that they came this way, through Cumberland Gap, along the old Wilderness Trail then but a buffalo trail, camping one night on Clear Creek, another time just beyond Pineville. In his Journal he speaks of Cumberland Gap as "Cave Gap."

The speaker told many interesting facts of Dr. Walker, mentioning the fact of his many descendants in Kentucky. His Journal was lost to the world until 1888 when part of it was found. It was published in full in 1898 and now is one of the most important historic documents of this section.

Judge Ayres said the Pineville Kiwanis proposed to put a monument for him in the gorge, on the Cumberland River, just this side of Pineville, and asked Middlesboro's cooperation. The club voted unanimously to help in the project, and E. S. Helburn, John Howard and M. G. Hubbard were named a committee to act for the club.

H. C. Chappell was chairman for the day and responsible for the interesting program. C. A. Blackburn drew the attendance prize. A committee to work out plans for a picnic the Kiwanis Club plans to give the public school teachers was named as follows: T. R. Hill, W. C. Stair and J. H. Brooks.

Major Helburn gave a short resume of the work the state highway commission is doing, saying that a good road to Cincinnati from here was certain by next fall. He spoke particularly of the improvement on the road between Georgetown and Williamson, eliminating all grade crossings. There will be but one crossing between here and Cincinnati except the one just below the tannery. The road is all concrete beyond Richmond. Major Helburn also spoke of the detour road between Corbin and Barbourville, saying it would be of sandstone, basalt with cinder top, and would be as good to travel on as the state road if the contract on it is held up.

Four Enlist In Service

Four boys have enlisted for military service during the past few days and have been sent to the training camps. Ralph France, and Ted Moore, of Cumberland Gap were assigned to the coast artillery in California. James H. Smith, of Fords, was assigned to the Tenth Infantry at Fort Thomas and Richard L. Helton, of St. Charles, was assigned to the quartermaster corps in California.

LACK OF FUNDS MAY ENDANGER FINISHING ROAD

Barbourville Man Tells Chairman of Pre-dicament

Need $25,000 Now

Says $70,000 Already Spent on 14 Miles From Corbin to Earleville—Would Complete by April 15

BARBOURVILLE, Mar. 20.—Cash, which has been at work on the detour to complete the route between Barbourville and Corbin have lost almost a dozen days of work—days of fine weather, too—because of the fact that no funds were available to meet the payroll. He declared that if the road was to be made passable by April 15, the general committee would have to furnish funds immediately to carry on the work on that section of the road. The money has been pledged by Cincinnati, Lexington and Kentucky towns which have undertaken to raise various amounts through popular subscription or by a one-cent voluntary gas tax.

Mr. Cole's letter to Mr. Goble follows: "Your letter of the 10th, with questionnaire, received, and I will answer as far as I can the questions asked."

1. There are 14 miles from Woodbine to Barbourville, in addition to about 10 miles in Laurel and Rockcastle counties.

2. There have been about $1,000 spent on the 14 miles from the city limits at Barbourville to Woodbine, which connects with the main road at each end. There has been more than 1,000 wagon loads of rock, and 200 wagon loads of cinders, in addition to five car loads of crushed limestone which was donated and put on the road. There have also been about 200 cars pulled through with tractor and teams, without any expense to the owners.

3. There is very little being done now on account of lack of funds. If funds had been available, the road could have been placed in safe condition by now. We believe that if the road is made safe for return travel from Florida, that the work will have to be done in the next 30 days, as after that time farmers will be busy with their teams, and labor will be higher and hard to get. We are informed that this work could be finished in 30 days if funds were available to meet the payrolls, and that the work can be done for $25,000.

It is estimated that about 200 teams could be put to work at once and as many men are needed.

4. We believe that it would be best for your committee to come and look over the road at once and we will arrange for them to get over it.

5. No one is getting any salary for supervising work or for any other purpose. We pay foreman $5 per day for full time and he furnishes his car and all expenses. We have been paying common labor $2.50 per day, and teams with driver $3 per day.

"We have done all that we can to carry out our part of the contract, and have obligated ourselves for a considerable sum of money expended so far, and if the road is made safe we will have to have funds from outside sources immediately."

Please advise us just what your committee will require to get the funds you have pledged for the road from Woodbine to Barbourville. If you desire payrolls sent there, we will send them, or if you prefer to send the money here and have the payroll sent to your committee for approval, or if you want the committee here to pay out the money and then report to you with an itemized statement, certified in by anyone you designate, advise us and we will be glad to comply with your wishes.

Sincerely yours,
"ROBERT W. COLE"

Saw Senator Under in Georgia Presidential Preference Primary

Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Mar. 20.—William C. McAdoo's overwhelming victory over Oscar W. Underwood for the Georgia presidential preference, was indicated today when returns from yesterday's primary gave McAdoo 222 of 412 in the state convention here April 22.

PLAN TRACK AND BASEBALL PRACTICE

M. H. S. Will Start Next Week Unless Weather Still Prevents

Associated Press.

Plans are being made to begin track practice as well as baseball by the high school boys next week if the weather permits, according to Coach John D. Kilpatrick. Poles, shots and other track equipment have been procured recently.

No arrangements have been made yet regarding the purchase of baseball uniforms. The athletic funds are at present very low, the revenue of games during the last season being scarcely enough for current expenses. With the exception of baseball, however, equipment is adequate. Basketball and football uniforms have been bought during the last season.

Baseball and track athletics will take place at the East End athletic park. Though no definite plans to remodel the park have been made, it is understood that some work will be done and perhaps a grandstand will be built.

The basketball season has officially closed, though some practice in the gym takes place daily during the bad weather which prevents outside sports. Photographs of the 24 boys' basketball teams which were made Monday were received today. The work is very well done and the boys show up splendidly in the picture.

RICKARD SAYS HE GOT BUNKED ON FIGHT FILM

Promoter Claims Conspirators Gave Nothing for Money

PROMISED HIM LAW

Instead of Immunity by Passage of Law, He Got Fined—Daugherty in No Way Implicated

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter, was witness today before the Daugherty investigating committee to tell about his interest in the exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films.

Rickard told the committee he got bunked when he arranged with Jap Muma, Will Orr, and mysterious "Ike" Martin to exhibit the pictures with immunity from prosecution. They never did anything at all for their money, Rickard told the committee, adding that Muma told him he could get a law passed legalizing showing the pictures but failed to do so. Rickard emphasized that none of these men claimed to have any influence with Attorney General Daugherty and maintained that he expected a passage of a law to legalize the showing. It went ahead and got fined instead, Rickard said. Out of the deal Orr got $4,000 and Martin and Muma $3,000 each.

To Redecorate Hospital

Plans for redecorating the interior of the front of the Brosemer-Brummett hospital are being made. The walls will be repainted in the lobby, offices and other places, near the front and some of the floors will be tiled. The work is now being started.

LEXINGTON PAPER PRAISES DR. GRAY

Former Local Pastor Has Won Popularity in University Town

The Lexington Herald, which each Sunday is giving a history of a Lexington church and a story of its pastor, carried a lengthy article Sunday on Dr. Johnson Archer Gray, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, now of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church of Lexington. Besides a history of the church and a picture of Dr. Gray, it carries the following sketch of Dr. Gray:

Dr. Gray, the present pastor of the church, took up his work there a little more than a year ago. Since then he has attracted to a large degree of popularity not only in the congregation but in the city where he is in frequent demand as a speaker.

Dr. Gray was born in Pittsburgh, Scotland, and is fourth of four consecutive generations of ministers. His father was professor of Greek at Edinburgh university. Dr. Gray received his education at Parkdale College, Institute, at Manitoba university, and at Columbia university.

In 1896 he graduated from the Union Theological Seminary, New York city, and became minister of the historic Woods Memorial church in New York where he remained for seven years. He came to Kentucky in 1918 to take charge of the First Presbyterian church at Middlesboro, which pastorate he resigned to take up the work in Lexington in January, 1923.

Dr. Gray was the recipient of the doctor's degree from Denys university in 1917 and from Fiske Memorial university in 1921. He is well known as a platform speaker and has made a number of summer lecture tours on chautauqua circuits.

A Thought

A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.—Jas. 1:8.

He is only a well-made man who has a good determination.—Emerson.

LEGISLATURE PROGRESSIVE ONE

Adjournment late last night of the state legislature marked the close of one of the most constructive sessions this body has held in a long time. With a large amount of very worthwhile legislation to its credit, there is, at the same time, no deterioration in any lines.

It is particularly pleasing for Southeastern Kentucky at this time to know the prominent part which its representatives and senators have played in all of this legislation. Senator White Moss of Pineville and Senator Hiram Brock of Harlan have been leaders in every progressive measure in the Senate and Hon. Joe F. Bogworth of Middlesboro has done probably more than any other man in the House to encourage and bring through constructive measures.

The greatest accomplishment, of course, was the passage of the $75,000,000 bond issue which will provide a complete primary system of roads for Kentucky, pulling the state entirely out of the mud in the next two or three years, as well as allowing sufficient funds to place our schools and penal and charitable institutions on a satisfactory basis.

In connection with this, the reorganization of the state highway commission, making the governor ex-officio member and giving the members enlarged powers, was a progressive act. A large number of primary road bills were passed, providing for state roads in almost every section of the state. The bill regulating taxes on buses and trucks will also benefit the state roads.

The tax bill passed, decreasing the farmers' taxes and increasing the rate on intangible properties, is expected to go a great way toward restoring prosperity in the farming sections of the Commonwealth.

The bill providing for daily reading of the Bible in public schools is one of a long list of worthy measures.

Reduction of the salaries of oil inspectors could have been improved only by abolishing the office altogether. But the lack of partisan legislation elsewhere in the defeat of the various ripper bills undoing constructive work of the former administration deserves only commendation.

CLEAN STREETS IN MIDDLESBORO

Complete plans for the supplying of trash cans for Middlesboro streets is a distinct forward step on the road to civic cleanliness. With the promise of fifty trash cans to be placed on the streets within the next few weeks with the new street flusher in good working order, there is every assurance that the dirty streets which have so marred Middlesboro will be a thing of the past.

There still remains, of course, the factor of co-operation. The fact must be impressed upon the public that the trash cans have a use and are not strictly ornamental so that no one will forget and throw his letters, papers, or other rubbish on the streets or in the school yard or the canal.

The place to begin this training will necessarily be the schools and every teacher should have instructions to impress upon every pupil in her room the fact that they must not throw rubbish. A few well-chosen words from the parents will speedily supplement this school training.

For the rest, the city will have to take that in hand. If the police will keep careful vigil on the streets a week or so they can soon make the public understand that the trash cans, not the sidewalks, is the place to put rubbish.

When these things are accomplished, our clean streets will be assured and we need never again blush for the untidy appearance of Cumberland and the untidy appearance of Middlesboro.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.
THURSDAY
Man's Need of Love and Sympathy

Read Mt. 23:31-36. Text: 25:36. I was sick and ye visited me.

There is in man's nature an elemental outcry for two things: (1) unity, and (2) sympathy. The instinctive desire for unity in the universe is the persistent incentive to scientific investigation. The instinctive and more widespread desire to find sympathy is at the basis of religion. This year for unity and sympathy is essentially the cry for God.

Meditation: Man needs sympathy far more than he needs any material thing. The great contests of life are spiritual contests and it is in the souls of men that battles are fought and won. Love and sympathy are the forces which reinforce the lagging powers of heart and brain and give one courage to endure to the end.

Personal Question: What can I do today for someone who is sick in body, mind or soul?

Prayer: Our Father in Heaven, we pray that this day may remind us anew of the world's need of love and sympathy. Teach us ways of ministry to the needy children of men. May nothing that we do or say this day hurt any child of thine, O Christ's name. Amen.

THE OPEN FORUM

Bethurum For Senate
Editor Daily News:

I would like to counsel with you concerning a matter which I believe to be of vital interest to our party in Kentucky. That is the nomination of a candidate for United States Senator, to be voted for next November.

A majority of the Congressional Districts of the state have already endorsed Judge P. J. Bethurum for the nomination. The Republican members of the General Assembly, both House and Senate, have unanimously endorsed his candidacy. That would seem to indicate that representative Republicans of the state regard him as the man to lead our party to victory in the senatorial race this fall.

I had hoped that we could make our nomination for Senator without arousing such animosities as usually result from a contest within the party. I still hope I believe that we can do that. And I also believe that if we do it, we are sure to elect our nominee in November.

Let me give you my views first; then let me have yours in return:

Stanley's nomination by the Democrats appears to me to be a foregone conclusion. And it is my judgment that, with Stanley as the issue, our nominee should exemplify and justify the exact antithesis of "Stanleyism." I firmly believe that Judge Bethurum does that—more, probably, than any other man in public life in Kentucky. For as a member of the General Assembly, Commonwealth's Attorney, Circuit Judge and legal head of the state prohibition department, he has made a state-wide reputation for upholding and enforcing the law.

Because of that fact, and because of his strict practice and long advocacy of temperance, he enjoys the confidence and respect, and would receive the support of the law-abiding citizens of all parties especially of the women voters.

I do not believe we ought to rely solely on national issues in making our appeal to Independent Democrats in the senatorial campaign. We must bring more than that into it.

And it seems to me that Judge Bethurum's nomination would do that very thing. For good citizens of all parts would look forward to his election as a triumph of Christian ideals and respect for law.

While it is true that Judge Bethurum is not a rich man, he would bring to our cause brains, energy, character and those superior and widely recognized qualities of leadership so essential in a candidate for United States Senator. And at this time, when every Dem-

HE'S just a scoundrel that wandered up and parked right at our door. This happened, say about three months ago. Perhaps a tramp for many days, but not one any more. He's found a home—a fact that he seems to know.

Dad calls him Pete; I don't know why, but Pete's the name he's packed, while mother always calls him Flip, for short. The boy just says "bla bla" when her tiny hand is flicked and brother Bill refers to him as sport.

The kids around our neighborhood, who feed him scraps and such, will summon him with names of any kind. The milkman calls him Puzze and the mailman calls him Dutch. He takes them all and he's not seem to mind.

It's "Pete, come here," and "Flip, lie down." The tramp dog does as told. There's nothing in a name to him, it seems. Whenever people call him with a title, new or old, he answers as he wags his tail and bays.

charging that the Republican party is in league with trusts and monopolies, and is the tool of predatory wealth. It seems to me we ought to refute that charge by the sort of man we nominate for United States Senator. It seems to me that Judge Bethurum's nomination would effectively do that.

As a campaigner, Judge Bethurum is second to none in the state. He is popular in our mountain section, and would poll our party's full strength in this, its stronghold. And my information is that he would make heavy inroads on Stanley among the Democrats in every section of the state.

I am firmly convinced that Judge Bethurum's public record, together with his fine ability and high character make him the logical man to nominate at this time.

And I equally convinced that, if we can nominate him without a parrot and monkey fight in our state convention, he will be triumphantly elected in November.

Can we do that? If you agree with me, that Judge Bethurum is the proper man to nominate, let's get busy and nominate him by such an overwhelming majority that it will be unanimous.

Write me what you think about it, block.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton
NO. 21—THE LITTLE GREEN MAN

"Hello!" he nodded pleasantly. "Can't you come in a minute?"

Down the beanstalk came the Twins from Beanstalk Land. Not you climbed the rose bush, I helped like Jack had done the time the giant chased him, but slowly and carefully, reaching down with their toes to find safe places to put their feet.

Suddenly one of the little beans opened and out came a little green man.

And then the Twins say that the big green bean-pod was really a little house, window, door and all.

"Do you live here?" asked Nancy. "We didn't see your house when we were going up. Were you here all the time?"

"Yes," said the little man. "But it was not intended that you should see me then. I'm the Beanstalk in a country where everything is so tiny and I can make myself invisible who ever I wish. The Twins had a magic time?"

Queen told me you were going to Beanstalk Land and asked me to go with you to see that you were not in any danger."

"But where were you?" asked Nick. "Where did you keep yourself?"

"Come in and I'll tell you all about it," invited the green man. So the Twins went into the queer little house and sat down.

"I was right beside you in all your adventures in Beanstalk Land," said their host. "When you fell out of the Dutch giant's pocket, it was I who guided you so that you fell safely onto Sneezy's back."

"And when Snap chased the rabbit, I caused you to fall on the sun-bonnet of the giant farmer's wife.

When you fell into the milk pail, I made her think you were flies and fish you out. I told the ant to come

"Goodbye!" called the Twins, taking the letter and starting down the beanstalk.

"Goodbye!" called the little man.

OLD LOYE

That 'tis well to be off with the old love
Before one is on with the new,
Has somehow passed into a proverb—
But I never found it true.

No love can be quite like the old love,
What'er may be said of the new;
And if you dismiss me my darling,
You may come to this thinking, too.

Were the proverb not wiser if mended,
And the fields and waving told,
To be sure they're on with the new love

Before they're off with the old?

Let the Kiddies Romp Outdoors In All Weathers

There is Nothing Like
Fresh Air Play to Build
Sturdy Bodies. If Colds
Come Treat Externally.

Children should play outdoors daily in winter as well as in summer. To keep them indoors so much is a mistake. For healthy growth they need and must have lots of outdoor exercise.

Of course, some colds will come as a result of exposure. But constant internal dosing must not be thought of. Vicks answers the need. It is externally applied and can be used frequently without upsetting the digestion.

When rubbed on over throat and chest Vicks acts externally like a liniment or plaster. At the same time the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled directly into the affected parts.

Vicks is the ideal treatment for children's cold troubles.

Mrs. M. G. Hubbard Gives Lovely "At Home"

Mrs. M. G. Hubbard entertained with a beautiful At Home yesterday afternoon for her mother, Mrs. E. A. Hubbard. The house was lovely, with a profusion of jonquil decorations in all of the rooms. A silver basket of jonquils formed the centerpiece of the dining-room table and silver candlesticks with yellow candles stood at each corner. Cake, tea cream and mints were in yellow and green and a yellow jonquil was given to each guest. Mrs. C. K. Brosheer and Mrs. P. M. Parson assisted the hostess. Misses Ruth McClure, Winnifred Irie, Winnie Phipps, Cornelia Avert, Virginia Brosheer, Margaret Sampson, Lucile Sport and Louise More assisted in the dining room. Murrell Hubbard, Maynard Hubbard and Mary Stump, dressed as little jonquils, received the guests at the door.

NEW YORK, Mar. 20.—Roaming around Broadway for a week, I was impressed by the performance of Helen Hayes in "We Moderns," the new Zangwill play. Some day I'll ask her what she thinks of modern and saucy flappers, the kind of past she plays. saw Charles Gilpin, the excellent negro actor, who awoke the country a few years ago with "Emperor Jones." This time he's in "Rosennina," which played on Broadway a few weeks ago with an all-white cast. Now, I'm told, the cast is all negro; which is as it should be, since all characters are negroes. Gilpin still compels your attention. I saw Paul Berlenbach, the middle-weight fighter get knocked out at Madison Square Garden. He had knocked out many victims. Ah, well, that happens to many in all walks of life—if one doesn't pick his opponent carefully.

Attended a movie ball at the Astor Hotel where I saw very few celebrities and the next night attended a ball at the Biltmore Hotel, given by a fashionable sorority, and was duly impressed by the difference in "crowds" if you will call it that. The movie crowd intense, a little hard-boiled, if you will, surely worldly-wise. The sorority girls and their escorts well-poised with all the assurance of generations of wealth and breeding, quiet, soft-voiced, gentle. Time—and money—create civilization.

Saw Irvin Cobb act in the movies, and am more impressed with his writing than before. . . . the same holds true for Arthur Brisbane, the editor. Still not convinced whether it was Cobb's or Brisbane's acting that put my companion asleep in the comfortable seats at the Capitol.

Books recommended by this writer are: "The Millender," "The Snob," "The Owl's House," "A Lost Lady," "Who Travels Alone," "The Story of the Bible," "The Plastic Age," and "With Congress and Cabinet."

The following plays are recommended:

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

DAILY MENU FOR THE STOUT AND THIN

Loss Weight

One baked apple, 1 cup consommé, 6 radishes, 3 ounces lean broiled ham, 1 small baked potato, 1 cup spinach with 1-2 hard boiled egg, and 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup combination salad, 2 tablespoons cream, 1 pint skimmed milk, 2 crisp pieces gluten toast, 1 toasted bran roll, 1 head lettuce, 4 tablespoons fresh strawberries, 2 slices gluten or whole wheat bread.

Total calories, 1201. Protein, 257; fat, 360; carbohydrate, 581. Iron, 6208 gram.

The cream is planned for the baked apple.

One small pat of butter could be included in this menu for the potato and toasted bran roll.

If fresh strawberries are not available two tablespoons canned ones can be substituted. The canned berries will contain more calories of carbohydrate as they were undoubtedly canned with sugar.

The salad is dressed with lemon juice.

If an even scantier diet is desired half the bread and toast can be omitted.

Whole wheat bread is richer in carbohydrates than pure gluten bread, but if you are sure your whole wheat flour is pure and really "whole" wheat and you are doubtful about your gluten flour the entire wheat is preferable.

Wagon," "The White Sister."

"It has happened to me know in intingey not a few great men who have attained world-fame in their lifetime," writes Warrington Dawson in his book, "Opportunity and Theodore Roosevelt" (Harvest Truth Publishing Co., Chicago). "Yet none has conveyed to me more completely than Theodore Roosevelt the sense of dynamic power."

Dawson was with Roosevelt on the famous African hunt, and he tells interestingly many incidents that occurred on that trip. But the book not alone is of the hunt. The author shows how Roosevelt was an opportunist, how he "made so much of everything" that happened in his life. Dawson knew the great American and his words may be accepted as authentic.

"THANK-U" IS CLEVER.
CLEAN, WHOLESOME SHOW

When a play comes along with the names of John Golden as producer and Winchell Smith as stage director, it means that the entertainment is to be furnished that will be clean, wholesome, well cast, and worth anyone's while to see. Both these gentlemen are advocates of clean plays, and Mr. Golden has repeatedly expressed his interest in the matter concerning his comedies.

"Thank-U" their latest comedy, which will be presented at the Manning theatre for an engagement of one week and night, Saturday, March 23, is a side-splitting laugh producer. Winchell Smith, in addition to directing the play, has collaborated with Tom Cushing in writing it, and together they have succeeded in giving to the theatre a play of gripping interest and of the highest artistic merit, if the reports from other cities are to be believed.

"Thank-U" is full of laugh-provoking lines and situations, and it is said that the vestry scene contains more laughs than any comedy that has been presented in years. The story has to do with the trials and persecution of a rector and his niece by a gossip.

Where Recipes Are Born

MOST of us probably think that recipes are just made. But the aristocratic recipe comes into the world with a great deal of pomp and circumstance and is given careful home training before it reaches the housewife's cook book or her kitchen stove. Here is a small corner of the big white kitchen in the home economics department of the Procter and Gamble Company where recipes are conceived, peeped, tabulated, tried and tested before they are given to the housewives of the nation. The nut doughnuts on the table are just as digestible as they are delicious, so we have persuaded the charming and efficient young home economist in the photograph to give us the recipe. Here it is. "Cream 12 cups of sugar together with four tablespoons of rice. Add two eggs well beaten, 1 1/2 cups of milk, 1/2 teaspoonful of salt, 1 teaspoonful each of vanilla extract and lemon extract, 4 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 cupful chopped English walnut meats, and sufficient flour to make soft dough. Roll out, cut with cutter and fry in hot grease to a golden color. Drain and stir with sugar." This is sufficient for seventy-five doughnuts, or seventy-five reasons why men don't leave home.

Five Weeks Old

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—The only physician in the country who has his own private burying ground, and admits it, is Royal S. Copeland, former health commissioner of New York, and now United States senator.

The burying ground is an old-time country cemetery, located on a farm in the town of Newburgh, N. Y. But to the senator, as a physician and an apostle of better health, it is a source of constant stimulation.

"There are about 10 graves in the enclosure," Copeland says, "and I often go up there and read over the inscriptions on the stones and meditate."

"The oldest person buried there—the grandfather of the family—died at the ripe age of 42 years, 8 months and 21 days. The average runs probably less than 30 years."

"Today the average expectation of life in the United States is 57 years. That is what our progress in medi- cal science has done. And with the general observance of simple rules of personal cleanliness, sanitation and hygiene, and the steady progress in curative medicine, that limit will be still further extended."

From the standpoint of complexion, the most colorful man in Congress is John N. Garner of Uvalde, Tex., the same Garner who, as ranking Democratic member of the Ways and Means committee, wrote his party's substitute for the Mellon tax reduction plan.

Garner has a chronically apoplectic countenance. In debate his mustache, a kindly manner and a normally florid face assumes a vivid crimson. Spectators sit in wonder, expecting to see him topple over a bullet in the Civil War

OUT OUR WAY—by Williams

AND NOW

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE WORLD

Oil—Daugherty—Third Party—In- come Tax

The oil investigators laid a background. The Daugherty investigators are bringing the picture out. The background is horrifying, but horrifying on a larger scale. The figures revealed were sinister, but they were the figures of big business. The foreground is revolting. Its figures are indescribably sordid, cheap, mean.

Small Change

(Doherty, playing for a $100,000, 000 pot, tossed $100,000 on the table like a white chip. "Suppose I 'don't' get it back; it's small change." Pennies weren't too small for Jess Smith. "Negotiating with a man who wanted a pardon for his brother-in-law, from the open, all Smith could see was that there seemed to be nothing in it for the gang. "He's a cheap; wants something for nothing," he remarked of the supplicant. To ask whether or not, in justice or mercy, a pardon was due, never entered his head.

The Engineer

Oil graft—If there was graft—was confined to oil, to one group, mainly to one governmental department. It ramified considerably, but from a single center. If investigation hadn't progressed beyond the oil scandal, the public might have concluded, with "that" cleaned up, that things governmental were all right.

But the Daugherty investigation is different. Of course the attorney general denies he was mixed up in any graft. What if he wasn't? Anyway the graft has been revealed as "there." It's been revealed as "sneaking the whole governmental executive machine. Doubtless there are some clean individual cogs in the machine. But the engineer, not any individual cog, runs a machine.

Secret Government

Maybe the most interesting part of Gaston Means' story, on the witness stand, was his account of the "system's" habit of spying on and trying to "frame" public men too honest to be controlled.

For instance, LaFollette started after Teapot Dome; immediately the "system" tried to "get something on him," Means says. Means mentioned plenty of others the spies trailed. In fact, said Means, everybody who runs for office, even for little county and city offices, is "investigated" before the "system" lets him get far in politics. Offices searched, mail opened, correspondence files ransacked, women used as temptresses. Who's behind all this? Who's the engineer? What "is" the "system," Mr. Means? Oh, "secret government," is his reply.

Third Party Talk

Hitherto nobody's suggested the possibility of a third party "victory" next November. That's what "is" being suggested in Washington now. Not a mere throwing of the presidential choice into the House of Representatives, but a third party victory at the polls. It's the consensus of opinion at the capital that, between the two "old line" parties, there's little to choose.

Too Late

March 15 is past and the income tax isn't cut. March 12 President Coolidge asked Congress to reduce it 25 per cent. Too late to lead off the next payment, answered Congress. And Senator Harrison, Representative Garner and others criticized the president for not asking sooner. As if anybody had to wait to be "told" by the president that "everybody" wants the tax cut!

The Navy Job

Chief Justice Curtis D. Wilbur of the California supreme court has taken over ex-Secretary of the Navy Derby's job. It was a hard post to fill—with a man that would do.

President Coolidge says he got his tip from the Washington newspaper correspondents.

A Big Bootlegger
Dry agents caught the English liner Orduna bringing hooch and narcotics into New York. They're suing to confiscate the vessel. Nobody thinks they'll succeed. With a petty rumrunner, yes. Not with a $3,000,000 English ship.

Helping France

J. P. Morgan & Co., and associated American bankers, have shipped a $100,000,000 credit to the Bank of France to help the value of French franc rose in exchange value right away.

Franklin's Ledger
MT. HOLLY, N. J., Mar. 19.—A duby attic of an old mansion here has produced an old ledger which is said to be Benjamin Franklin's original account book. One entry shows that Franklin printed 1000 copies of his protest to the king of England against the stamp act.

How Had Her Way

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 18.—Andrew Jaworski got his discharge from the regular army after seven years' service and they had his name changed to Jawson, "because it was easier to pronounce." Now he has had France to help the value of French franc rose in exchange value right away being that the gift he wants to war is prefers it.

L. M. U. PLANNING BIG ATTENDANCE IN SUMMER TERM

Special Courses In Addition to Regular Curriculum

RED CROSS WORK

Special Lecturers, Exploring Excursions, Field Day, Planned for the Next Session

HARRIGATE, Mar. 29.—The fourteenth summer session of Lincoln Memorial university which will open on June 9 promises to be a record breaker in attendance and courses offered. The annual bulletin announcing faculty and courses will soon be off the press and will be widely distributed throughout this area.

The courses offered the coming summer will include the regular college and academy courses and in addition will have special classes in Domestic Art, Agriculture, Music and Commercial courses. A special course is offered under the direction of the Red Cross. The subject of the course is Personal Hygiene and Home Sanitation. In addition to the regular credits given for this work a Red Cross certificate will be issued to those who complete the course. The Smith-Hughes Department of Agriculture is offering special work that will appeal to a great many who are interested in agriculture. Also from June 10 a Rural Teacher's course will be offered for normal students. This course will be under the immediate direction of trained and successful teachers whose work will enable the students to be prepared for their work the coming season of teaching. The Red Cross course in Hygiene is especially adapted to the needs of the rural teachers. The work of instruction at the Summer Session of L. M. U. will be under a highly trained faculty. Dr. Robert Orville Matthews, president of L. M. U., will be in general charge. Prof. T. H. Ford, dean, will be dean and teacher of English during the summer. The rest of the faculty will be as follows, with some additional names yet to be added: Miss Vryling Buffum, Dr. Danforth, Prof. H. R. Garrett, Prof. J. M. Nicholson, Prof. J. H. Moore, Prof. Frank C. Grambs, Miss Ada Gray, all of the regular faculty. Prof. C. O. Logan of Greenville and other specialists in educational lines are expected to be added to the faculty at an early date. The Extension department and student correspondence during the summer session will be under the direction of Capt. W. L. Jones. Music classes will be under the direction of Miss Bessie Smith.

The Summer Session calendar calls for some added attractions in addition to the regular class work. Several men and women of national note are expected to address the students from time to time during the session. Two main pleasures will be given, one to the Pinnacle and the other to Fern lake. A number of personally conducted excursions will be made to points of interest such as the Sand Cave, English Cave, the Canyon, Alum Cave, Soldiers' Cave and the point marking the junction of Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky. Also, during the summer session a field day will be held in which students and neighboring schools will be invited to participate in competitive sports.

A number of students have already asked for reservations for the summer session at L. M. U. and the school is preparing for a large summer enrollment.

Notifies of Assessments

Burrell Smith, deputy sheriff, is notifying property owners of changes in assessments for their state and county assessments for this year. In a number of cases these assessments have been raised. Deputy Smith is serving the notices on residents of this, the Sixth, district.

What She Ordered

HAVE YOU APPENDICITIS
AND DON'T KNOW IT?

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gasses and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Frank L. Lee & Co. druggists.

Building to City Vault
A number of shelves are being built in the vault room of the circuit court office at the city hall by the Log Mountain Coal company who was recently granted a permit to use it by the city for a small consideration. The firm will keep a quantity of old records in the vault.
